Copyright on ICE

We've received this from Alun Williams at Cynon Isaf. It is regarding the Institute of Chartered Engineers photo competition currently being widely publicised. (See below for details of the competition).

I've been passed an email by one of our members from the Institute of Chartered Engineers regarding an up-coming photo competition. I believe this has been circulated to most photo clubs. A quick look at the regulations reveals that the images entered may be used by ICE for marketing etc. worldwide without payment of a fee. Obviously anyone can enter if they choose but they should be aware that their photographs could be used at will without them being compensated.

I have campaigned strongly for years as a professional and amateur against blatant attempts to secure a wide resource of imaging material at little cost. I feel that these tactics along with the emasculation of copyright law will in time devalue the merit and worth of good photography.

This is Civil Engineering Photography Competition

We have received this from the Institution of Civil Engineers (ICE) Wales:-

Civil engineering is all around us. From the Millennium Stadium to the Menai Bridge, it has helped to shape our world. Join us in celebrating civil engineering in Wales by entering our two photo competitions (one for U16s and another for 16yrs+). An exhibition of the best photos will be held at The Norwegian Church in Cardiff Bay with a special awards ceremony on 30th November 2015. Entries close on 31st October 2015 and the exhibition runs from 1st – 13th December 2015. Prizes of £200, £100 and £50 will be awarded to the top three places in the 16+ category and the U16s category winner will receive an iPod Touch.

The competition is open to all – schools, colleges, photo clubs and members of the public, as well as industry colleagues, to help raise the profile of our profession (please see the attachment below for information on how to enter). Take a look at the latest competition entries via our Twitter feed @ICEWalesCymru and join the conversation with the hashtag #CEinWales2015

Llanelli needs your help

The Llanelli Photographic Society is celebrating its 125th anniversary in 2016. Members have many events and activities planned in order to make this a memorable year. One of these is the creation of an AV that traces the club's history from its founding in 1891 to the present day. The club would like to include its connection with the WPF and especially the WPF Salon.

What we need is some information on the founding of the WPF and the date of the first year of the Salon, and if possible the venue for each year. Joyce Mollet (joyce.mollet@hotmail.com) would welcome contact with anyone who has any information relating to this.

Give Harry a Lift

Harry Gardiner of Tenby wishes it to be known that he can still give talks and/or judge for your club but he would need a lift to and from the event.

New Photo Gallery in Bargoed

We have received this information from Zosia Krasnowolska of the 'Kickplate' project.

I'm writing to let you know about a photo gallery that just opened in Bargoed town centre as part of a project that I co-run, called the 'kickplate' project.

We are a non-profit curatorial photo project aimed at bringing art to communities that don't have permanent galleries, and over a period of 8 months we're going to run 7 exhibitions of fine art photography in Bargoed; our first exhibition, which is on until the 16th of September, is a solo show by a Lebanese artist Hanan Kazma. We would like to invite members of camera clubs in our area and beyond to come and visit the gallery, discuss photography and also discover new artists.

I've attached some more information to this email and I'd appreciate it if you could share it with the other members of your Club – I hope they will find it interesting. You can find more information about our work on our webpage and blog. Opening hours are Tuesday-Saturday, from 10.30-6. The full address is: 52 Hanbury Rd, Bargoed, CF81 8QW.

Cadw open door events

Cadw, the Welsh Government's historic environment service, are holding a series of 'open door' events in September designed to offer both local people and visitors alike the chance to explore the hidden treasures of Wales's culture and history.

From the heavenly Parc Calon Lan in Bridgend to the guttural remains of Wrexham's former iron and steel works in the Brymbo Heritage Area, there are lots of chances to discover hidden heritage during September. Head to their Open Doors section to find regional lists of the sites taking part — including an array of Cadw monuments.

Philip Jones Griffiths Exhibition

A new exhibition celebrating the life and work of the celebrated Welsh photojournalist, Philip Jones Griffiths, is on at the National Library of Wales, Aberystwyth. It runs until 12th December. More details here.

Griffiths, who died in 2008, is best-known for his photographs of civilian casualties and suffering during the war in Vietnam. He published a book in 1971, 'Vietnam Inc.', which helped turn public opinion against the war. Philip Jones Griffiths – A Welsh Focus on War and Peace features photography and slides from the book as well as earlier and later work. For the first time, many of Griffiths' cameras, papers and artefacts will be displayed alongside his photos.

Thanks to Dewi Jones over at Neath for the information. NB. He says the lighting isn't that good so take a torch, especially if you want to see his amazing contact sheets.

PAGB Awards for Photographic Merit (APMs)

For the first time in several years, the WPF is hosting the APMs and many WPF members have applied. On 28/9 November 2015, Jan Cawley will become the first WPF judge to adjudicate at the APMs.

It is generally perceived that applicants, who have sought advice on the contents of their entry, have been more successful. As well as attending an APM Workshop (and many have), seeking advice from a current adjudicator is the recommended path. Jan, quite properly, believes that it would put her in a compromising situation to advise current applicants. She suggests that applicants seeking advice should get in touch with either John Cooke (Johncooke574@btinternet.com) or Peter Young (peterayoung@btinternet.com).

PAGB APM Venue Change (CPAGB, DPAGB)

Please find below details of a change of venue for the Awards for Photographic Merit being hosted by the WPF on 28th/29th November.

At the time of writing there are eight credit places (or four Master places) available. Entries are arriving by the day so anyone still hesitating may lose out!
